

Sackler Lecture and Egyptological Colloquium 2005 ticket application form

Sackler Lecture £15, Colloquium £50, combined ticket for both - £60.
Full time students less 50%, BM Friends less 10%

name: _____

address: _____

postcode: _____

telephone/fax: _____

e-mail: _____

Sackler Lecture: _____

state no. of tickets here _____
and all other names _____

Colloquium: _____

state no. of tickets here _____
and all other names _____

I enclose a cheque, made payable to
'The British Museum'
for the sum of £ _____

tickets available from Alison Cameron, Dept of AES, British Museum, Great Russell Street, London WC1B 3DG, (Please include a stamped, addressed envelope) phone +44 (0) 207 323 8312, fax +44 (0) 207 323 8303. e-mail: acameron@thebritishmuseum.ac.uk &
entitle messages: 'Sackler/Colloquium 2005', + your name and date.

THE BRITISH MUSEUM

Department of Ancient Egypt and Sudan

The Raymond and Beverly Sackler Foundation Distinguished Lecture in Egyptology 2005

Piramesse: capital of Ramesses the Great and portal to the Eastern Mediterranean

by Dr Edgar Pusch

Wednesday 13 July 2005 at 18.00

BP Lecture Theatre

£15, ticket by application

followed by a reception in the Egyptian Sculpture Gallery

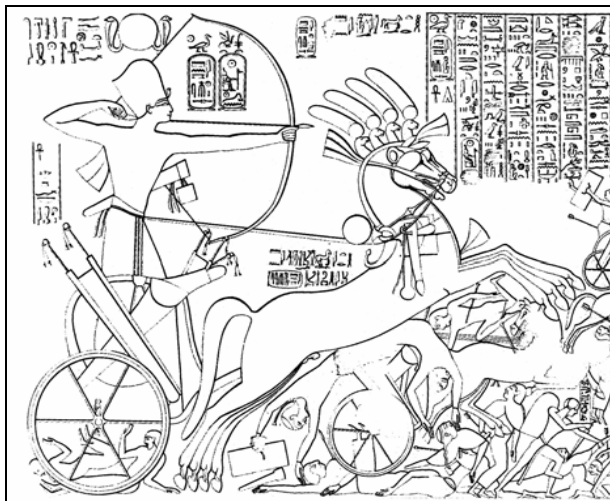

International Colloquium 2005

Egypt and the Hittites: contacts, conflict and diplomacy
in the Late Bronze Age

Thursday 14 and Friday 15 July 2005

£50, ticket by application

Egypt and the Hittites: contacts, conflict and diplomacy in the Late Bronze Age

THURSDAY 14 JULY

MORNING SESSION

10.15 - 13.00

Ulf Schoop
Marcus Müller

Excavations at Bogazköy: an overview.
A view to a kill: Egypt's grand strategy in the Near East.

Hourig Sourouzzian
and Rainer Stadelmann
David Hawkins

New northern name-rings from the mortuary temple of Amenhotep III at Thebes.
The Arzawa letters in recent perspective.

AFTERNOON SESSION

14.00 - 17.30

Itamar Singer
Peter Pfälzner
M. Abd el-Maksoud
Edgar Pusch

The failed reforms of Akhenaten and Muwatalli.
Qatna, the Hittites and Egypt: a new controversy.
New discoveries in the 'Ways of Horus', North Sinai.
Hittite and Mycenaean remains at Qantir and their implications for understanding international relations.

Stefan Jakob

Pharaoh and his brothers: international relations at the time of Ramesses II.

RECEPTION

17.30, Foyer, Clore Centre

FRIDAY 15 JULY

MORNING SESSION

10.15 - 13.00

Anthony Spalinger
Peter Brand

Ramesses ludens (et alii).
How 'Ramesses-Great-of-Victories' became the 'Great-Spirit-of-Re-Horakhty': the ideological implications of the Egyptian-Hittite peace.

Dietrich Sürenhagen
Alain Zivie

Forerunners of the Hattusili-Ramesses treaty.
The Egyptian royal messenger Pirikhnawa.

AFTERNOON SESSION

14.00 - 17.30

Chuck Van Siclen
Trevor Bryce
Mario Liverani

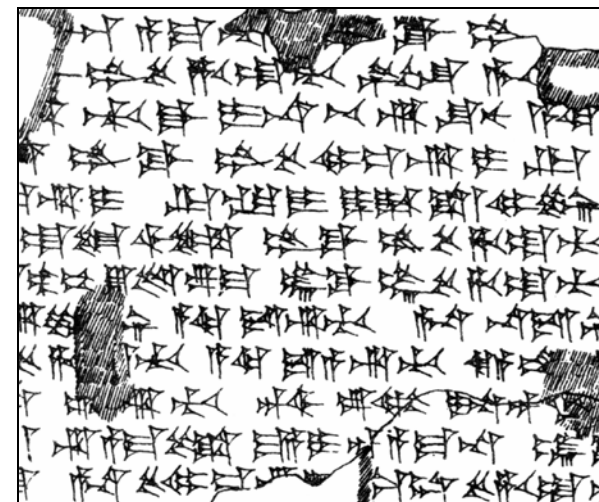

The Hittite Marriage Stela from Mut temple, restored.
The 'Eternal Treaty', from the Hittite perspective.
Under northern eyes: Egyptian art and ceremony, as perceived by Babylonians, Hurrians and Hittites.

Francis Breyer

Linguistic connections between the Egyptian and Anatolian languages.

Kenneth Kitchen

Closing remarks.

Please see over, for ticket application form